

Tutorial Part I

The Interface

This is the game interface :

The Interface or Game UI is split into three zones (also marked on the screen):

I - Top Menu

II - Active Zone

III - Bottom Menu

I Top Menu – Buttons ( it is static – it's form or utility wont change regardless of your in-game actions ):

- Kingdom Overview

Click it in order to see the list with all your current towns

- Town Overview Click it in order to see the overview of the town you selected from the previous list .

- World Map By clicking this button you will be redirected to the map of Agartha . There you can see your town position on the map and also the towns of your other neighbours . More info about the Map in the next tutorial .

- Alliance Overview Here you will be able to make a new alliance , join one or just look at the status of the alliance you are currently in .

- Messages and Reports Here you can read , write , send and delete messages or reports .

II Active Zone ( here is where all your actions in game are shown ) . All the pages from buildings, technologies , units , battles , missions , alliances , mini-forum etc are shown in this zone . Please notice the resource bar :

It shows the stored resources in each city . Do not worry . In time , the numbers will increase :P .

III Top Menu – Buttons ( it is static – it's form or utility wont change regardless of your in-game actions ):

- Buy Game Points If you like the game , you should consider supporting it by buying Game Points . Clicking this button will redirect you to our secure payment area where you can buy numerous in-game bonuses for real-life money . For as little as the price of a movie ticket you will maximize your fun for one month .

- Chat Clicking this button will open you a chat window . Try it every time you have some minutes to kill and you fell like meeting new people .

- Profile Here you can see your player profile . Describe yourself and most important , keep track of your Game Points .

- Highscores Here you can see the rankings of all the players on your server . See who is the best on economy , military , infrastructure etc . Check out which is the best attacker and the best defender . We advise you to use this page a lot especially when you decide to attack other players .

- Forum Click it and you will be redirected to the alliance forum . Be advise , this is an in-game forum , it is NOT the Game Community Forum (you can find the link on the Main page or Login page) . The alliance forum is visible only to the players in the same alliance . The button works only if you are a member of an alliance .

- Logout This is the opposite of Login as you can see . Click it if you want to close the current game session . We advise you to use it especially when you play from an internet café .

This ends the first part of the Tutorial . You should read the second if you want to find out the basic things regarding game-play mechanics .

Thank you for your time !
